1 Changes, Updates and Errors

Please report any errors, misspellings and the like to the Security and Privacy Officer.

Changes to access granted by Access Directive of the Board must be requested directly to the board. Note that they are granted to positions, not individuals.

Updates of access due to changes in positions may be reported to the Security and Privacy Officer. This concerns the roles of AG DI, members of the boards of PPS and its cantonal sections as well as members of other work groups.

Changes to access granted by the Security and Privacy Officer may be requested at any time. Any decision of the Security and Privacy Officer may be appealed to the Board.

All administrators of AG DI and all other users with administrative access may apply access granted by this document and must remove access not granted by this document provided that the system itself and the privilege level is covered by this document. All changes of access on any system must be reported to the Security and Privacy Officer immediately.

2 Special Conditions

To access some systems users must fulfill additional technical and administrative requirements.

2.1 Member Database

Access to the Member Database requires prior notice of the privacy policy as laid out by the board. The notice is distributed by the Security and Privacy Officer. Access to the Member Database is provided through a web interface secured with x509 client certificates. Certain user groups can also access the Member Database through the means stated below under Remote Application Access.

The x509 certificates are valid 3 years and revoked when access to the member database or other system secured in that manner is revoked. Older certificates were valid only one year. To request a certificate the end user has to send a specific request to the SPO in an authenticated manner. As authentication, verbal transmission of the SHA over the request or a Suisseld authentication signature are required.

2.2 Server Administration

Server administration access is provided through SSH with certificate authentication. Administrators shall use a secure password to secure their private keys. They shall also use a different secure password for their user on the server which will be used to get administrative privileges through sudo.

2.3 Remote Application Access

Remote Application Access to non-public applications running on servers or back-ends of public applications is provided through SSH. All users must use client certificates. Access is always granted to individual accounts. Access is restricted to the creation of tunnels with the use of an endless-loop script as shell. Furthermore X-forwarding is disabled for these accounts.

2.4 File System Access

File System Access to directories on servers is provided through SSH. All users must use client certificates. Access to sections is granted through a section user and all other users through individual accounts. The connection is restricted by the use of scp only as shell. Furthermore all forwarding is disabled for these accounts.
