Target version:
Description
Add a support button for posts which enables users to support a specific post (similar to Facebook-Like-Button or the 1-Button in Google)
The support-votes should be shown below each post, there should be only one vote per user and post
Possible data to show below each post:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• number of support votes• list of names of supporting users, which could be further enhanced for a specific vote by<ul style="list-style-type: none">◦ linking the user profile◦ displaying the function of the user◦ displaying the date when a specific support vote was casted◦ displaying the number of posts by the user It should be possible to remove support votes; at least within a certain time span in order to correct accidentally clicks on the support button or to reflect on a changed POV.
The system should be implemented within the board software and should not make use of other systems such as Facebook or Google+
Certain board plugins have been proposed but seem not to be usable with the current software version, namely http://custom.simplemachines.org/mods/index.php?mod=1890 http://custom.simplemachines.org/mods/index.php?mod=3029
